Burlington Reads – Survival

Wow, March has gone by quickly! Did you have a chance to participate in any of our events this month? If not, we do still have a book talk and an evening program that you can attend. There are also programs for teens, children and families scheduled through March 31 – mark your calendar and be sure to join us!

Thursday Evening Programs -March 23 at 7:00pm – Coast Guard Rescue

Join us for our final “Burlington Reads –Survival” evening program for adults. Hear from OSC Ian Banks about the Coast Guard and harrowing tales of Coast Guard rescues and survival.

“Burlington Reads - Survival” Book Talk for Adults – Wednesday, March 29, 2:00pm at Buffalo Wild Wings Join us for our final Burlington Reads Book Talk for 2017. We will share a variety of titles based on the theme of Survival. We hope that you will choose a book or two to read and share with us as well. You can share your “Survival” readings with the Library and others by posting a photo on Facebook (bit.ly/BurlingtonPLFacebook) or email it to the library at ref@burlingtonpl.org.

Special thanks to our partners

Thank you to our partners in our community who have made Burlington Reads 2017 possible: Buffalo Wild Wings, Burlington Council on Aging, Burlington Parks and Recreation Department, Digital Federal Credit Union, Friends of the Burlington Public Library, Rotary Club of Burlington, Showcase of Homes, Realtors/Diane Bedard, and True North Coffee Café, Versatile Printing, Inc.

Displays

Spring is just around the corner! To help you get in the swing of things, we've put together a spring display featuring books on gardening, biking, geocaching, and more. Sample titles include: Geocaching: Hide and Seek with your GPS by Erik Sherman, Fresh Food from Small Spaces by R.J. Ruppenthal, Complete Bike Book by Chris Sidwells, Grow Organic: Over 250 Tips and Ideas for Growing Flowers, Veggies, Lawns and More by Doug Oster and Jessica Wallliser, The Edible Front Yard: The Mow-Less, Grow-More Plan for a Beautiful, Bountiful Garden by Ivette Soler. Get your gardening groove on...

There are leprechauns in the library....Come see what they did with our green books

Check out some items from our second floor display of books and DVDs about Music. You will find Histories such as Rock Chronicles edited by Dave Roberts, song books, biographies and Broadway shows. This is only a small sampling of our large collection spanning all genres from punk to Puccini.

Did you know?

The library offered 610 programs for children, teens and adults in 2016 and over 10,000 people attended!
